

Government Square
Thursday -
This Caroline has written I cannot resist the pleasure of thanking my dear Miss Telford for writing to me You can have no idea what pleasure I shall always have in hearing from you, I am almost selfish in writing then with affect Y. C. S. Elizabeth Telford

Original manuscript privately owned enough to wish you may not leave Paris so soon as I fear when you get to America surrounded by dying swains you will be too ^{much} taken up with thinking who is to be an old fortune than to lead a thought in your friends in Europe?

Pray tell Mother I wish her more than ever to come to England as there are several good mad Doctors & by your account. I think her head quite turned, if she has intervals of reason pray give her a hint her misfortune is a judgment for her cruelty to her

Original manuscript privately owned

accident, but I am afraid you will think my brain a little turned in writing all this nonsense.
 I am sure you I have some of this last line ha of my ~~own~~ ~~papers~~ I will I cannot avoid the entreat the favour of you of thanking my to buy a dozen of these thin I should be cards you know the sort that you can have made & send them to the what please to Duke of Devonshire to keep on have in bearing recollection. We will shake call for them & pay you before you, I am Thursday. The paper prevents my subscribing myself any thing more than what affect G. G.