

but really to some work, I do not wish to remain idle very one of our mutual acquaintances has enquired most particularly after you, and I hear from all parties that you were more admired last winter than any one who has been in Michigan within the memory of its inhabitants - the general expression is, "every one else young or old, London or winter was thrown in the shade - completely." Cousin Jane is standing by and reads a great deal of love.

Love to her & my Mother
